

CONTRIBUTION OF PHOENIX

What the Franciscan Mission Thinks This Town Should Give as Its Share of the State Fair Fund and Why It Should Give.

That a little more of the "get together, pull together" spirit should be manifested by the business men and citizens generally of Phoenix and the state fair is the belief of the fair commission which has pointed out some rather interesting facts with reference to the matter of financial support.

"Primarily, the fair is a Phoenix institution," says the commission, "so far as the direct financial benefit is concerned. To be sure we all know it is for the whole state and for the benefit of the whole state. Also, the whole state gets an immense amount of advertising out of this annual institution; but in the first instance the direct financial gain goes to the city of Phoenix."

"Perhaps the people of Phoenix themselves hardly realize just what the fair means to this city. Perhaps they don't generally know that the amount of money on deposit in Phoenix banks on the Monday morning after the fair is $300,000 in excess of the amount on deposit the Monday morning before the fair; but it is a fact. It is not claimed that all this money is poured into Phoenix as a direct result of the fair; but it is claimed that practically all of it is. There is no other way to account for it."

"In the light of this enormous benefit the commission thinks itself justified in asking the people of Phoenix this year to contribute $7,500 to the success of this big and profitable institution. If anyone thinks that a large amount let him reflect that it is just two and one half per cent of the amount that will be put in circulation in this city during fair week. Viewed in that light it seems that anyone must admit the request is an extremely reasonable one."

"Other towns contribute directly to the fair fund—towns that do not receive a penny of direct benefit. And some of them are getting rather tired of it, believing that Phoenix has not done its full share. The most that Phoenix ever has contributed in a single year is less than two per cent of the amount received."

The next meeting of the commission will be held July 22 in this city. The commission desires that business men and citizens generally meet with them at that time. Also, it is intimated that if anyone desires to bring his check book with him he will be none the less welcome on that account."

The commission further points out that year by year the state is asked to make an appropriation for the benefit of the fair and that further appropriations will be needed. "If the city in which the fair is located, the city that derives the principal benefit from it, is unwilling to give it proper support we shall be in poor shape to ask help of the legislature," said one member of the commission. It is a fact that at the late session of the legislature one of the chief objections to the second appropriation bill was that Phoenix had not done its part in the matter of financial support. Also, it is pointed out that unless a more liberal policy is adopted by the people of this city the same objection will be urged when the question of state appropriation comes up.

PHOENIX MOTORCYCLIST ENROUTE TO CHICAGO

Hal Davis Takes in Las Vegas Vaudeville on Trip Through Neighbor State

Hal Davis, the Phoenix motorcyclist enroute to Chicago, arrived at one in a piece as far as East Las Vegas, New Mexico. That little burg, it will be recalled, is the scene of a late film melodrama, of somewhat odorous memory. Anyway, that got that far on his motorcycle. He even went so far as to see the fight, and he writes that his recovery will be rapid as soon as the danger point is passed.

The worst part of the road, Hal says, is past. That encountered in eastern Arizona and a few miles into New Mexico is the little brother to the path of rectitude, but the going becomes more boulevard-like as progress eastward is made. From Albuquerque north the route is coincident with the historic Camino Real, a scenic highway raised to fame by the efforts of the New Mexico good roads boosters.

Davis visited Santa Fe on the Camino, the capital being just twenty-

TENNIS AT HAYDEN IMPROVEMENT OF COURTS

Among Other Changes They Will Be Made to Conform to Lay of Town

HAYDEN, July 8.—There was a very enthusiastic meeting of the Hayden Tennis association last week at which several important matters were disposed of and a movement set on foot to have several very great improvements made in our courts. A committee was appointed to take this matter in hand and arrangements have now been made to have the position of the courts shifted a few feet to run parallel to the mill and the general lay-out of the town. The courts were made when the camp was yet young and in some manner it happened that they were a little out of line with the general scheme and have always given the impression of being somewhat twisted. An entirely new surface will be laid over the courts and they will be put in first class condition generally, which will make them an ideal battleground for the tennis teams of Ray and Hayden in the fall contests which are now scheduled to take place here.

The big auto truck of the Cadumet and Copper Creek company was in town Monday to remove to the Copper Creek camp the effects of W. W. Benjamin, who recently left Hayden to be the company's master mechanic.

A. V. Bailey, of the Gila Valley bank here went to Phoenix Saturday. M. E. Webster went to Ray Saturday for a few days' business trip. C. A. Pitzer of the Western Union office in Los Angeles is in Hayden checking up the local telephone office. For several years Mr. Pitzer was in charge of that company's office at Kelvin and handled the business for that town and Ray until he moved to Los Angeles about a year ago.

Louis S. Cates, superintendent of mines at Ray, returned Saturday from a vacation of several weeks in Boston and other points east.

THE QUESTION IS POLITICAL

ful if such a situation ever has existed in any state.

It is consideration of matters such as these that show just how grave the situation is and just how serious was the blunder made by the makers of the constitution in failing to provide specifically for the tenure of all state, county and precinct officers.

TAX COMMISSION BOOSTS VALUATIONS

And the Work is Hardly Yet Under Way

Valuations on building and mercantile stocks in Phoenix have been raised materially by the state tax commission over the figures submitted by County Assessor J. T. Bone. As an illustration the stock of the Goldwater store may be mentioned. This stock was assessed by Mr. Bone at $15,000 but the commission thinks $20,000 will be about right. This is an increase of 66 2-3 per cent, the $24,000 representing the difference between Mr. Bone's ideas as to a just valuation and the ideas of the state tax commission. Other business houses have been assessed by the commission as follows:

Adams Hotel, $30,000; furnishings of same, $20,000; barroom, $2,000. The Ford hotel building is assessed at $15,000, the furnishings at $5,000 and the barroom at $2,000. The Commercial hotel building is placed at $20,000 and the furniture at $5,000.

The Boston store is assessed at $20,000; the Dorris Grocery company's store at $25,000; the Wakelin grocery at $35,000; Goldman and company at $50,000, and Melzer Bros. at $20,000.

It is known that some of the public service corporations operating in this city are to receive a large increase over the amount fixed by the assessor. A statement to this effect was published several days ago in The Republican when it was said one of the local corporations here would probably be increased $100,000. In some other cases it is known there will be large increases but the figures have not been made public.

six miles from Reno—no, Vegas. The eastern route has never been attempted by a two-wheeler, for the reason that the roadway is so rough the rider is jolted off his feed by the rats. Continual balancing of a heavy machine is no easy task, being far different from the luxury of touring in an automobile. Leaving Vegas, Davis will start up the hills toward the Colorado border. The route thence is one of the best in all the west, a scenic tourist's delight. The rider expects to make the Kansas line in about three days.

Chronic Ulcers Mean Bad Blood

If outside influences were responsible for chronic ulcers, then external applications and simple cleanliness would be a curative treatment. But the trouble is always in the blood which has become unhealthy and diseased, and keeps the sore open by continually discharging into it impurities and infectious matter. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., may cause the place to scab over temporarily, but the blood is not made purer by such treatment and soon the old inflammation and discharge will return and the sore be as bad or worse than before. S. S. S. heals old sores by going down into the blood and removing the impurities and germs which are responsible for the place. S. S. S. thoroughly purifies the circulation and in this way destroys the source of every chronic ulcer. In addition S. S. S. enriches this vital fluid and assists nature in overcoming the bad effects of a chronic ulcer. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

ALASKAN WINTER GROUND FOR DIVORCE

A Suit Which Would Be Stronger at Any Other Time of the Year

For perhaps the first time on record the state of the climate was yesterday made a part of a complaint in an action for a divorce. The plaintiff in this case is Mrs. J. W. Barnes and the defendant is J. D. Barnes, who is described as a transient person but is now probably living somewhere in Alaska.

The plaintiff and the defendant lived together for some time at Fairbanks, Alaska, where according to the complaint the climate was too rigorous for any white woman. It was stated that the thermometer sometimes registers 70 degrees below zero in that region. The plaintiff could not stand it and told her husband so. He did not seem to be concerned regarding the effect of the climate upon her constitution and refused to make provision for her removal to a country where more moderate meteorological conditions prevailed. She managed in some way to make her way south and for more than a year has been a resident of Arizona and of this county.

It is doubtful whether this is the right time of the year to file such a complaint in the Salt River valley. The plaintiff could not in midsummer here arouse a great deal of sympathy by reciting the blessed rigors of an Alaskan winter. The swearing court and jury might think that she had shown bad judgment in abandoning such climatic conditions as she had complained of. Undoubtedly Mrs. Barnes had better delay this suit, especially on these grounds, until say, next December.

DEMAND ON CONGRESS BY THE EDUCATORS

They Want Something Done for the Country Schools.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH) CHICAGO, July 8.—With a demand that congress be asked to appropriate money to have what is termed the "lowly, heartrending tragic condition of the rural schools in this country," the National Educational association opened its fifteenth annual convention today. Reports had been submitted that of twenty million public school pupils in the United States, twelve million were being educated in the rural schools and that only one-third of the boys and girls were making satisfactory progress. Reports showed that the condition of the rural schools is so deplorable it was time for the federal government to provide both money and methods to remedy the situation.

that the time should be given to prepare for a hearing of the impeachment charges and that many senators are needed at home to look after their political fences.

Thirteen articles of impeachment were presented to the house today with announcement that their consideration tomorrow would be demanded.

HALLOWED BY HASSAYAMPA

Arizona Site at Panama Pacific Exposition Christened with Waters of Marvelous Power—Appropriate Speeches at Function.

Arizona's site at the San Francisco fair has been selected with due ceremony. Details of how they stirred things up in Frisco have arrived at the board of trade. Harry Welch in a note accompanying a number of newspaper clippings declares the people of the bay state are fully alive to the important nature of the get together affair, turning out in great numbers to witness the ceremonies attending the picking of a site for the Arizona building at the 1915 fair.

The depot where Arizona's delegation arrived was crowded with people official and otherwise who held an impromptu reception for the travelers. After getting acquainted with Californians the whole delegation adjourned with many other Arizonians who happened to be in California and couldn't resist meeting the other boosters to the Palace hotel where the big cask of Hassayampa water was on tap. Assembling before the exposition headquarters after the sites had been located on plans, the representatives of Arizona, the newest state and those of Pennsylvania, one of the original thirteen, headed by Governor Tener, took automobiles for the Cliff House and beautiful Golden Gate park. The drive was a source of great pleasure to the delegates, those of Pennsylvania especially marveling at the grandeur of the park.

At a luncheon at the Cliff House the question of the plan of Liberty Bell for the fair was taken up. Governor Tener advised the Californians to petition the Mayor of Philadelphia for the use of the historic relic, assuring those present of his confidence that his honor would be glad to allow the bell to be taken to the coast.

Returning through the park the commissioners attended a review of troops at the Presidio, after which the regular site selecting was celebrated at the exposition grounds. It was late when the ceremony began. President Moore of the fair presented the dedication to Governor Tener first. The governor accepted with appropriate words.

Eugene Brady O'Neil received the paper for Gov. Hunt. On the presentation, the "Silver tongued one" planted a flag for Arizona and sprinkled a bottle of famous Hassayampa water on the earth where the exhibit house will stand.

O'Neil said in part, "We are a new state, but while the others may be rich in some form of development, we are proud of the fact that in Arizona we make men, men of whom the state is proud even in her infancy. We have started an empire and it will grow greater as time goes by. Arizona will be well represented at your exposition."

Speaking of Arizona's state fair this fall Mr. O'Neil said "Californians are much interested in their neighbor state. They have not forgotten the excursion they made into our land last fair time and prospects are good that the trip will be repeated by a much larger force by bay states this year."

The following is the personnel of the official Arizona party: Eugene Brady O'Neil, chairman; E. M. Dickerman, A. L. Moore, representing the governor of Arizona; Harry Welch, secretary of the commission; Captain J. L. B. Alexander, rough rider of Arizona; Chris. Malin, representing Maricopa county; Emil Ganz, Arizona Bankers' association; S. P. Hoeffler, Arizona fair commission; J. L. Gust, Arizona development board; E. S. Kirkpatrick, vice-president Yuma commercial club; Max Czuczka, Dr. Clymer, C. L. Myers and James Graham, Yuma; J. J. Sullivan and H. E. Heighon, Tucson; Dr. W. A. Oedermark.

The Fairmont hotel was the scene of the most brilliant affair in honor of the state's executive and the commissioners from the east and west. Many prominent Californians were in attendance. A squad of California Grays formed a guard of honor to the governor.

The guests danced until late when the Arizona delegation left for their train.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH) WASHINGTON, July 8.—Indicating that the house would not agree to the naval appropriation bill as amended by the senate to provide for two new battleships Chairman Padgett of the house naval committee today said he would not consent to any of the senate changes which have increased the naval appropriation by $75,000,000. It is believed there will be a deadlock.

SAYS TAMMANY IS FOR WILSON

Chairman Mack Has Conference With Nominee.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH) SEA GIRT, July 8.—Notwithstanding the fact that the national democratic committee held a conference today with Wilson, during which the loyal support of the organization in New York was pledged to the governor, Mack told Wilson that Tammany leaders would fight for him "just as if they had to get out and do so."

The chairmanship of the national committee was the topic of the long talk as was the desirability of appointing a campaign manager to cooperate with the national chairman. "We did not get down to names," Mack added, but I suggested that it would be well to appoint a western man as campaign manager, if his choice for national chairman should be expressed. There is no doubt about the outcome in New York. In my opinion Roosevelt will hurt the republican party ninety per cent and the democratic party ten per cent. Former Judge Hudspeth, vice chairman of the democratic national committee and a member from New Jersey asked Wilson today to erase his name from the list those from whom governor will make a choice for national chairman. Hudspeth told his supporters that he wanted McCombs to have the position.

The judge thinks McCombs might open a western office either at San Francisco or Denver. The governor and James R. Nugent, his recent political foe in Essex county clasped hands for the first time within a year.

FLORIDA SENATOR ROASTS ROOSEVELT

Fletcher's Bitter Speech in Defense of Lorimer.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH) WASHINGTON, July 8.—An attack on Roosevelt for condemning Senator Lorimer was a feature in the defense of the Lorimer case in the senate today. Senator Fletcher, of Florida, following up Senator Dillingham's speech for Lorimer, arraigned Roosevelt.

"Roosevelt could enjoy a luncheon with Booker Washington, at the White House," declared Fletcher, "but he could not afford to dine in the same room with Lorimer, a member of the club of which he was a guest."

The Florida senator referred to the former president as the "headquarters" of morality and so condemned Lorimer on a false allegation repeated to by Editor H. H. Kohlsaat, that $100,000 had been raised and used to elect Lorimer. Fletcher said that Roosevelt does not know the facts.

"The naming of a respectable citizen, the head of a beautiful family and a representative in high office" said Fletcher, "was a welcome thing if it gave an opportunity to attitudinize as a standard of honor and righteousness and the name of civic virtue."

Fletcher said Kohlsaat placed implicit faith in what Clarence Funk told him about Edward Hines asking for a contribution of $100,000 to the Lorimer fund. Fletcher contended that Funk's memory was unreliable, that Funk had given seven different tales as to time at which his conversation with Hines regarding the "slush fund" had taken place.

Tomorrow the delegates to the convention will take up the actual inner workings of the organization. The registration shows more than 13,000 thousands and Elks with many yet to come.
